U.S. Air Force Planes In Huge Attacks In Korea

By FRANK CONNIF (I. N. S. War Correspondent)

AT A FIGHTER PLANE BASE IN KOREA, July 29.—For three hours this afternoon I flew over the valley between Hadong and Chinju and watched American navy and air force jets, Mustang and B-26s plaster the whole area in the greatest continuous air bombardment of the war.

I counted six villages burning.

There must have been at least 50 fires—big fires—in Hadong, which seemed to be burning down completely. Chinju was aflame the same way.

I saw 30 vehicles and two tanks knocked out as planes ranged back and forth along the 15 miles long valley near the front in southwestern Korea.

Lt. Roger Wilks of Union, N. J., was the pilot of the plane in which I was.

Two Barns Burn In Friday Fires

Hickory, Neshannock Firemen Fight Fires

Lightning was responsible for the loss of two Lawrence county barns on Friday afternoon during the course of the severe electrical storm which passed over the district. Barns were destroyed in Neshannock and Washington townships in a two-hour period.

In Washington Township, damage of $7,000 was sustained at the Gadja farm in Washington township Friday at 5 p. m., when lightning fired the barn on the property.

Hickory township volunteer fire department, which was called to the scene of the fire, was unable to save the badly burning barn, but was able to save two outbuildings, a corn crib and implement shed which were already starting to burn.

The barn, according to the owners, was filled with new hay and some implements, which were consumed.

Plan Addition To Moose Club

Ground Will Be Broken On Monday

Announcement was made today by Governor Walter L. Ringer of New Castle lodge No. 51, Loyal Order of Moose, that ground will be broken on Monday morning for the construction of a one-story addition at the rear of the present Moose Temple on South Mercer street.

The building will be 33 by 75 feet in extent, and will provide additional room for the men's club rooms, besides providing better facilities for recreation and refrigeration.

The cost will be in the neighborhood of $25,000, it is stated. The architect is W. C. Eckles company, and the contractors are Seitzer & Young. The work will be rushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

More Draftees May Be Called

Calls Indicated For Fall And Winter

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—Defense officials indicated today the Army will call up additional draftees this fall and winter beyond the 100,000 already called up for September and October.

New draft calls may be slated in November and December. The Army probably will order to active duty further National Guard and Reserve units to strengthen its forces.

Some officials said as many as 300,000 draftees will be inducted under an emergency program calculated to boost military strength by 800,000.

This development followed disclosure that the Army wants to increase its overall strength by 244,000 to a maximum 834,000 before the end of this fiscal year in June.

Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins told the House Armed Service Committee that the additional men would be drawn from the draft and Reserves and through volunteer enlistments.

Man Killed When Car Hit Three Power Poles, Set Two Homes Afire

MILLVILLE, N. J., July 29.—(INS)—Joseph M. McGill, 25, of Philadelphia, was killed today when his automobile smashed into three power poles and set two homes afire.

New Castle and this area experienced a severe thunder, lightning and rain storm, on Friday afternoon. Several places were struck by lightning in the district.

Dear Pa News: I have a lovely hydrangea plant that my son gave me on Mother's Day, May 1947, but it never bloomed until this year. Now, it has a bloom on it that is 34 inches around and 21 inches across. It is pink and quite pretty. I never saw one so large. Yours truly, Mrs. Sherman Houk, R.D. 1, Castilewood.

Residents to the west of Lawrence county, just across the Ohio line received half the heavy rain storm that was experienced in the city Friday afternoon. The hail was so heavy in nearby Youngstown, some residents reported windows broken out.

Many folks were excited Friday afternoon, during the electric storm which swept the district, by the report that lightning had struck the steeple of the First Methodist church. There is a lightning rod running from the top of the steeple to the ground, and it showed no signs of having been struck. The bolt appeared to hit somewhere in the downtown district, but no reports of damage were received.

Owners of lawns and plots of grass about the district will put the summer of 1950 down in their record books as one of the "mowingest" seasons they have seen for many a year. Recurrent rains sandwiched in between with a few days of sunshine have kept the lawns growing at an unprecedented pace.

Work of placing the long distance gas pipe line under old and new routes 422, west of the city is progressing at the present time. Burrowing machines dig under the highways with traffic able to proceed over the roads during the course of the work.

Oats harvesting work is under way on numerous farms around the county, Pa News notes.

Baruch Plan Gains Ground

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—The Baruch plan for complete mobilization of the nation's economy to meet the Communist threat appeared to be gaining ground in Congress today.

A test of strength between elder statesman Bernard Baruch's proposal for standby price-wage-ratification controls and the President's less drastic bill calling for allocations and priorities, will come Monday in the Senate Banking Committee.

Sen. Sparkman (D) Ala., generally a firm Truman supporter but in this case an outright backer of the Baruch plan, will try to weld the two programs together in Monday's meeting.

The Baruch proposal failed by only one vote in the House Banking Committee Friday and will be proposed on the House floor next week.

Work Of Fifth Column In South Korea Is Revealed

By FRANK EMERY (I. N. S. War Correspondent)

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN KOREA, July 29.—American intelligence officers reached the conclusion today that a North Korean fifth column prepared for the war by hiding arms, ammunition and fuel in various parts of South Korea well in advance of the invasion.

Officers have noted previously prepared combat positions used by the Communist invaders. During the battle for Hadong in the southwestern sector Thursday, the Red troops used concrete machine gun emplacements.

In another sector of the same area, the Communist fired on American troops from deep holes in hills, where there was no natural cover.

Intelligence officers also have noted that North Koreans have

Four Cars In Crash Friday

Two Injured When Truck Skids Into Car

Two persons were injured and four cars were damaged in a series of automobile collisions just above the intersection of Garfield avenue on Wilmington avenue at 5 o'clock Friday evening. Worst injured was C. J. William Gustafson of R. D. 3, Pulaski road, pressman at The News, who suffered lacerations of the left side of the mouth, and contusions and abrasions of the chest.

Mr. Gustafson was traveling north on Wilmington avenue, enroute to his home, when a service truck of the Hane Furniture Co., driven by Raymond L. Jenkins, aged 19, of 1515 1/2 East Washington street, traveling south, skidded on the wet pavement and went across the street sideways, directly into the path of Mr. Gustafson's car. Both autos were badly damaged. Mr. Gustafson's being a new Buick sedan which he had just purchased this week.

New Protest On Return Of King Leopold

(BULLETIN)
BRUSSELS, July 29.—(INS)—A "strike of silence" designed to turn Brussels into a "dead city" in protest against the return of King Leopold erupted today into a new series of violent incidents.

Police clashed repeatedly with rioters in the center of the city. Chairs were thrown from sidewalk cafes, virtually the only places open in a otherwise shuttered city.

BRUSSELS, July 29.—(INS)—Socialists and Labor opponents of King Leopold III staged a "strike of silence" in Brussels today and made this teeming capital a "dead city" in protest against his return.

The firm tread of heavy police boots on the city's cobblestones was the loudest sound to be heard as shopkeepers closed their stores and shuttered the windows.

Officials of the Ministry of the Interior and the Army met in conference.

U.N. Countries May Match U.S. Forces In Korea

By PIERRE J. HUSS (I. N. S. War Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 29.—U. N. sources predicted today that in coming months the world organization will match American ground forces in Korea with an equal number of combat troops from 15 to 20 countries.

Rough estimates on the basis of troops promised by the British commonwealth, Latin-American nations, Turkey and Thailand already have swelled the combat forces in sight for U. N. to 60,000 men. Several governments are still ironing out their contributions with the unified command.

Promises Made
British troops, ready to embark from Hong Kong, may run to 6,000.

County Bond Drive Passes Quota Given

Lawrence County takes its place among all 67 counties of the state that achieved 100 per cent or more of their quotas in the recent nationwide "Save For Your Independence" bond campaign.

The state led the entire nation percentage wise, 129 per cent or $67,862,688.

Alfred H. Owens, Lawrence County chairman of the savings bond committee, has announced that this county has sold its quota of 100 per cent, or $493,622.

The drive marked the first time that Pennsylvania had led the nation in any of the savings bond campaigns, during or following the war.

The entire drive for the county went over the top to 110 per cent of the original goal.

Repeated Efforts To Pierce Lines Are Thrown Back

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN (Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 30.—(Sunday)—Reinforced U. S. troops, supported by withering Navy and Air Force rocket and bombing attacks, blunted the Red drive toward the vital port of Pusan Saturday.

The First Cavalry and the 25th Infantry Divisions, exhorted by their field commander to "fight to the death," fiercely battled Communist hordes on the war's flaming central front.

Numerically superior Red Armored columns forced a slight withdrawal at one point on the central front but the demounted cavalymen and 25th infantrymen threw back attempts to breach their lines.

New U. S. Forces Opposing Reds
In describing the action in the southwest sector, General Douglas MacArthur did not disclose the identification or size of the new forces opposing the Red drive toward Pusan.

A communique issued at 12:30 a. m. Sunday (10:30 a. m. Saturday EDT) said:

"The Communist sweep down the west coast and thence eastward toward Pusan made little progress today (Saturday). Crippling air strikes by Navy and Air Force planes and increasing numbers of United Nations ground units have contained the threat in this area."

Front dispatches, however, reported the Reds advanced 20 miles eastward in two days to within 52 miles of Pusan. The largest air conflict of the five-week-old conflict was loosed upon these Red forces.

MacArthur acknowledged small advances by the enemy in the central and northeast sectors.

He said:

Adding New Pressure
"The Red invaders are adding new pressure southward along the Yongdong and Tanyang-Yechon axes, with slight gains being made by these two drives."

He asserted "there was no appreciable change in the vital central sector of the fighting where the best Communist divisions are employed" and that "repeated attempts to break through defensive positions of the First Cavalry and 25th Division troops have been thrown back."

On the east coast, Red troops still held shell-battered Yongdok despite slight gains by American and South Korean attackers.

MacArthur said "naval fire by five-inch and eight-inch guns continued to harass the Communists in this area."

International News Service War Correspondent Frank Emery disclosed in a dispatch from U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea that "slight withdrawal" had been made Saturday by the U. S. First Cavalry Division in the crucial central sector southeast of Yongdong.

To Stabilize Position
The dispatch, received at 10 o'clock Saturday night (8 a. m. EDT), said the retirement along the First Cavalry's front was "intended to stabilize" the division's

B. And O. Men Are Retiring

Two Engineers End Long Careers Today

Two B. and O. engineers, Carl H. Jewell, of 3 E. Moody avenue, and J. W. Kline, of Callery, both of whom work out of the New Castle Terminal are retiring today, after long and honorable careers with the company.

Mr. Kline, who is 69 years of age, started with the old Pittsburgh and Western, running between Allegheny and Forest Junction, now Warren, O., on July 17, 1900. He became an engineer in the Pittsburgh division, since then. He has two sons, who are conductors with the B. and O. Railroad.

When he left this morning, on his last run to Pittsburgh, his locomotive was gaily decorated with bunting and signs.

Mr. Jewell, who operates a locomotive in the New Castle yards, completes his service at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and a gala sendoff is taking place in the yards here for him as he ends his operations.

U.S. Troops In Korea Ordered To Hold Ground

Commander Makes Dramatic Visit To Front Lines

By FRANK EMERY (I. N. S. War Correspondent)

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, July 29.—Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker ordered his troops to "fight to the death" today in a dramatic front line visit.

The fighting field commander of all U. S. and UN forces battling the Communist invasion of South Korea ordered his men to hold without giving up "another inch of ground."

Gen. Walker flew in an observation plane from his headquarters to the battle zone of the First Cavalry Division and 25th Infantry Division to get a first hand appraisal of the battle situation.

His plane landed on a village street not far from the front. He emotionally exclaimed:

"Surrender impossible!"

"Surrender is impossible. We must hold on to the line we now have."

He warned his men not to surrender because to be a prisoner of the Communists would be a "fate worse than death."

The two-listed General then said:

"There is no chance for a Dunkirk, even if we were so disposed. Surrender is impossible. We have got to keep fighting. No individual or squad or company or higher unit will under any circumstances surrender because we all realize being prisoners of these people would be a fate worse than death."

He continued:

"It must be clear to every one we must hold the present front"

Red Control Bill Sought

Seek Control Bill Before Congress Quits

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—A move is underway in the House un-American Activities Committee today to push through a Communist-control Bill before Congress adjourns.

Chairman Wood (D) Ga., announced that his group will begin next week to ready the Mundt-Nixon-Ferguson Anti-Red Bill for House action.

Wood said however that the committee will probably abandon some features of the Bill in an effort to insure its acceptance by President Truman.

The Georgian said he will consult with the Justice Department

Will Lay Cornerstone Of Detention Home Monday

At one thirty o'clock Monday afternoon, July 31, the cornerstone of the new Juvenile and Detention Home of Lawrence county will be laid.

County and city officials will be present and the public is invited to attend the ceremony.

Judge W. Walter Braham will make the address of the day and Harvey B. Bush, president of the Board of County Commissioners will lay the first trowelful of mortar.

Documents Inside
In the cornerstone will be placed a history of Lawrence county, a copy of today's New Castle News, and a program of the ceremony marking the centennial of the county held in 1949.

The new home is located near the court house on the old Early property. Recommended for many years by grand juries the present board of county commissioners provided for it in the budget made for this year. Work started some weeks ago.

The new building will be as nearly fireproof as it is humanly possible to make it. The foundation is of concrete, the structure is of brick, the floor is carried on steel beams and the floors are of concrete. Frames and doors will be of steel. Construction is to the point where within a few days the roof will be started.

One story high, the building is in the shape of a "U" with the dormitories for boys and girls running out from the offices and juvenile and Parole Officer's living quarters.

Arthur Mometer

Come Saturday night and a fellow wants to relax for an hour or so, he may decide to get forty winks or he may have some place to go. And some there are who prefer to be where the juke boxes blare and groan, and others who head for a rocking chair on the old back porch at home. But me I prefer the still of the woods where the trees are shady and tall, and all the noise is the whip-poor-will or the hoot owl's cry call. Where the air is clean and the world's at peace, it's there that I want to stay out there in the woods on the Slippery Rock. It's warm, eighty-four today.

Two Masked Gunmen Get $10,000 Payroll

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—Two masked gunmen held up the R. M. Chambers Co. in nearby Patton township today and escaped with a $10,000 payroll.

The holdup men surprised B. B. Caldwell, a clerk in the company's offices and locked him in a lavatory.

Hiding their faces behind white handkerchiefs, they waited for more than an hour until two other employees returned from a bank with the payroll money.

When the payroll carriers walked into the office, they were ordered to drop the money packages and raise their hands.

The robbers escaped in a black sedan which was parked in a garage beside the office.

positions defending the key town of Hwanggan in a major mountain pass on the main inland rail-highway route to Pusan.

At the house he filed his dispatch. Emery said Eighth Army Field Headquarters was not yet able to learn the extent of the First Cavalry's withdrawal nor whether the retirement occurred in a "major part of the front or merely a segment" of the line.

A front dispatch Saturday evening said low-flying American planes had attacked and set fire to the seven-way communications center of Chinju in southern Korea, indicating the Reds had pushed U. S. troops out of that city.

Chinju lies only 52 miles west of Pusan, vital entry port of the peninsula's southeast tip.

Biggest Aerial Assaults
The Chinju raid was part of a day long series of strikes Saturday at the enemy's south-wing forces by U. S. Naval Carrier and Air Force planes in the war's biggest single aerial assault. Bombs, rockets and aerial bullets set at least 50 big fires along a mountain valley leading west from Chinju.

In the crucial central sector, where American troops have killed at least 3,300 Communists since Wednesday night, a small enemy group was disclosed to have filtered through U. S. First Cavalry Division lines in the vicinity of the major rail hub of Kunchon Friday night.

An intelligence officer at Gen. MacArthur's Tokyo Headquarters revealed late Saturday that the infiltrating North Korean unit was promptly attacked by American troops who killed an enemy band of 25 men at Kunchon. The Americans suffered no casualties in that action.

Kunchon lies 12 miles southeast of Hwanggan where the First Cavalry Division is battling to prevent an enemy breakthrough across the central ridge of the mountain "spinal cord" that runs down the middle of the Korean peninsula. A major gateway to Korea's southern plains, Kunchon is on the trunk railroad and highway to Pusan.

MacArthur's spokesman announced that the North Korean armored columns, supported by heavy artillery, were "continuing their pressure on all fronts" Saturday. He said the "heaviest pressure" was being exerted against the American-defended central front where "the Communists are building up their strength."

As the invading hordes pressed their "do or die" offensive through their third day, the official spokesman estimated 31,000 enemy troops have been killed or wounded in the war, now ending its fifth week.

gone directly to positions on high ground or other strategic points as soon as they have entered a given area. From those secret vantage points they poured heavy fire into American ranks.

Fifth Column Work
These facts lead the assumption that after American combat troops were withdrawn from South Korea in 1949 at the end of the occupation period a Communist fifth column began actively preparing for the invasion by smuggling arms into the area below the border.

This tends to explain the riddle of how Red infiltrators managed to pass through American lines as refugees carrying only household goods and then were able to attack the Americans from the rear with automatic weapons and plenty of ammunition.

It may also explain how Communist armor and motorized transport continues to run despite heavy allied air blows on Red communication lines.

Secret fuel caches are believed to have been established by the Reds at strategic points well in advance of the invasion five weeks ago.

He elaborated this while inspecting the First Cavalry front by saying: "We are fighting for time as we did from the beginning. I feel absolutely confident of the success of our operation although we know we are in for some hard blows before we are secure."

sumed by the fast spreading fire. Tom West, chief of the Hickory volunteers, directed the activity of the firemen in their efforts to save adjoining buildings. The chief reported that partial insurance was carried by the owner.

In Neshannock Twp.
Neshannock township volunteer fire department was called at 3 p. m. Friday to the M. Lubiseak farm on the Pulaski road, about one and a half miles from the city line, to fight a barn fire. The barn had been struck by lightning a few minutes previously during the storm that enveloped the area.

The barn, which carried the season's hay crop, was valued at $500 and the contents $100. Due to the rapidity of the fire after the bolt of lightning struck, firemen were unable to save the building, according to Jim Messner, fire chief.

During the course of the fire, fire police were forced to make one arrest due to a motorist insisting on parking closer than 500 feet to the scene of the blaze. The fire police have orders from state police to tighten down on erring motorists and others who insist on hampering the work of the firemen.

GERALDINE GROSS

WEDS DONALD TANNER

Ferns and gladioli, attractively arranged before a picture window, provided a charming setting for the ceremony which united the lives of Miss Geraldine M. Gross and Donald Lewis Tanner on Friday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gross of R. D. 3, Highland Heights, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Tanner of R. D. 8, Highland Heights.

Rev. J. Calvin Rose heard the exchange of wedding vows at 7:45 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed.

A fashionable white street length dress of imported lace and linen was worn by Miss Gross for her wedding. Pretty features were its graceful V-neckline, cap sleeves, and bouffant skirt. A white picture hat and accessories were additional accents, and she wore a corsage of pink and white roses scattered with tiny white flowers. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Barbara Gibson, close friend of the bride, attended as maid of honor. She wore a dainty embroidered yellow voile street length dress with V-neckline and full skirt. Yellow accessories and a lovely corsage of mixed flowers completed the picture.

Warren Wehman served the groom as best man.

Miss Eileen Aiken, cousin of the bride, accompanied Everett McCracken, uncle of the bride, as the "I Love You Truly," and "Because."

A wedding reception for seventy-five guests was held at the bride's home. The young couple later departed for a trip to an undisclosed destination. After September 1 they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment at State College, Pa.

The bride, a graduate of the local high school in 1948, was employed as a telephone operator by the Bell Telephone company. Mr. Tanner, a graduate of the New Castle Senior High school in 1944 and Penn State college in 1948, received his Master of Science degree at Carnegie Institute of Technology in 1950. ## In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Churchill Reveals Peril

Winston Churchill—that formidable "iron man" of British politics who can praise and condemn and encourage and frighten with equal ease—has had his say on the armed strength and danger of the Soviet Union and his picture is a spine-chilling one on every score.

The wartime prime minister had asked for a secret session of parliament to go over the whole question of western Europe's defense and British armament in private.

He made a test case of the demand and missed out in unseating prime minister Attlee's labor government by a single vote.

It was the narrowest of many narrow squeaks to date. And Churchill took advantage of this vast parliamentary confidence in his counsel to tell the house of commons all he knew about Soviet arms and Russian ambitions.

His object obviously was to shock the people of Britain and the European continent out of any possible complacency.

He conjured up a gruesome picture of Britain being blasted by rocket weapons and guided missiles from emplacements far back of the English channel. He described the massive extent of Russian armored power, enumerated 360 submarines and said quite flatly that Joseph Stalin and what he termed the "Kremlin oligarchy" aim at nothing less than world conquest.

Far From Conscious Of Peril
It is clear from his speech that Churchill feels Britain and western Europe are far from conscious of their immediate peril.

He had, however, no specific recommendations but for all Europe to rearm as rapidly as possible while the United States still maintains a comfortable margin over Soviet Russia in the atomic bomb stockpile.

Once again he described this as a "decisive" deterrent to any Soviet aggression in Europe.

In view of plans that already have been announced for a build-up in British armaments and extension of aid to South Korea, there is some speculation as to whether Attlee might ask Churchill to take an active hand in defense preparations.

There is an unusual angle to the military relationships between the laborite prime minister and his predecessor.

Attlee was a major in the British army during the first World War. At the time of his service, Churchill was first lord of the admiralty. By a quirk of circumstances, it was Churchill who gave the orders for the British landing at Gallipoli. This turned out to be a fiasco, and one of the minor incidents of the time was that Attlee received a wound and a decoration.

The socialist leader nevertheless has a healthy respect for Churchill's dynamic war leadership and particularly his strategic planning. Not Cooperative

There are repeated reports that personal relationships among the various military leaders of different nationalities who comprise the western Europe defense council are not as cooperative as they might be in any such united front. Like Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Churchill had a marvelous capacity during the war to deal with persons of all tongues and all shades of national characteristics.

It has been suggested on numerous occasions that in this time of decision, Churchill would be the man to take in hand the snarl of threats of intra-European preparation and weave them together into a smooth and pliable fabric. Whether Churchill would take the job is, of course, problematical.

Up to the time of the present crisis, he felt it his crowning ambition to turn the labor government out of office, restore conservatism to Britain, do away with nationalization and haul the Union Jack to the top of the pole where it used to be.

But an offer to be civilian commander-in-chief of European defense forces might be a tempting one.

The appointment undoubtedly would be an enormous spur to European courage, determination and the will to temporary sacrifices for eventual survival. It is quite certain that Churchill has not thrown away the uniforms or the famed "siren suit" that made him a familiar figure on bygone battlefields.

Born in Budapest, Hungary, March 17, 1874, son of a rabbi, Rabbi Stephen Wise, was educated in New York. ### Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A couple of golf nuts were indulging in post mortems at a Monday luncheon. "Yesterday was blue sky and fair as far as I'm concerned," moaned one. "First I took an eleven on that three par water hole. Then I hit my wife with a driver on the thirteenth and sent her to the hospital for a month at least. Then my son called to say he had flunked out of Wesleyan. And finally my house burned down."

"What an unfortunate day," agreed his companion. "Imagine taking an eleven on that three par water hole!"

Dr. Lynn White, Jr., President of Mills College (for women only) in Oakland, California, has a very low opinion of co-education. "For example," he points out, "when a man asks a question in a co-educational classroom, he is probably concentrating on the question. But when a girl asks a question, the chances are that what concerns her exclusively is 'What impression am I making on the men?'"

Bible Thought

Therefore I take pleasure in in-firmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake; for when I am weak, then am I strong.—II Cor. 12:10.

One reason so many marriages are failures is because so many failures get married.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Times are serious . . . and our thoughts go from subject to subject . . . our personal problems get mixed up with the nation's problems . . . now is the time for all to keep calm . . . do the jobs that we are expected to do . . . and do them better than we have ever done before. Righteous living is important . . . the laws set down by the GREAT BOOK tell us right from wrong . . . it's during these times when the poets write their best . . . it's with sincerity today that we publish the words of a promising young poet from New Castle . . . Ruth Thompson gives us Theory and Escape:

THEORY

Throw the stars away and the tarnished sun,
If all is glitter and nothing is love.
Burn the scarf shouldering the hills
That is purple from the skies above.

Let the moon be quiet in its opaque sphere,
Grow old and die unseen
And let the sea be dull and brown
With a beggar's mien.

For what is love if the earth is done
With the foolish gold of a summer sun
That woos the young 'til age is won?
And what is earth if love is done?

ESCAPE

Send back the stars to their place on the hill
And dim the too white sun.
Live content on the wheat-sea plain
And let the dream be done . . .
For we have dreamt a dream that shirks
The light, and human as we are,
We dream the truths that day escapes
As sunlight flees a star.

WHERE NEXT?

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Responsibility Is Essential

WASHINGTON, July 29 — If there is one characteristic above all others essential both to the lawmaker and to the executive in our government today it is responsibility. Since that is so, there is an encouraging bit of news in the midst of so much bad news in the victory of representative A. S. M. (Mike) Monroney over Senator Elmer Thomas in Oklahoma.

For Mike Monroney has proved through 6 terms in the House that he is, above all else, a responsible and a conscientious public servant. He is a responsible public servant before he is a partisan politician and that is a fairly rare phenomenon.

One Reason For Defeat
One reason for Thomas' defeat, ending a political career going back to Oklahoma's first year of statehood in 1907, may well have been that he had shown himself to be so irresponsible. Supposedly Thomas had the pressure groups behind him. He has always voted for the biggest possible subsidies for farmers. He voted against the Taft-Hartley Act.

But this had the look of expediency as Thomas pursued his own private financial and political deals. He had back of him the big private power interests seeking to buy up cheap power from the southwest power authority, and sell it at high rates to consumers, thus giving the private company most of the benefit of Federal spending for low cost power.

As Monroney showed in his campaign, Thomas sought to bring pressure on Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman, to persuade him to sign a contract that in Chapman, opinion gave the private company an unreasonable advantage. Fortunately, just before the first primary election, Chapman signed another contract giving the consumer a better break and, at the same time, avoiding the costly and wasteful duplication of building separate government power lines to carry the southwest authority's power.

Won First Primary
Monroney won the first primary although he lacked a clear majority of all the votes cast. That necessitated a run off with Thomas. As the Democratic nominee Monroney, it is believed here, will have little difficulty in defeating the Republican candidate in a State where Republicanism is chiefly represented by a small group of wealthy oil men.

In Arkansas President Truman's friend, Governor Sid McMath, defeated former governor Ben Laney, leader of the Dixiecrat forces in that state. This raises further doubt as to whether the south is ready, and willing, to rally behind a crusade against the Truman administration.

At the time that James F. Byrnes won the Democratic nomination for governor in South Carolina, his victory was greeted with loud Hosannas by the ultra-conservatives in the north. He was hailed as the White Knight who would lead the embattled Dixiecrats in a successful holy war to

Just Folks

THE IMPORTANT MAN
Mr. Big came walking by
When in trouble deep was I;
Motor stalled and wouldn't start.
Mr. Big is not so smart.
All he said was: "I don't know
How to get the thing to go."

Mr. Wise was next to pass.
Merely muttered: "Out of gas?"
"No, just filled the tank," I said.
Mr. Wise then shook his head.
Notwithstanding all he knew,
Couldn't tell me what to do.

Big, important men are they,
As the papers often say.
More important than to me
Was the youth in dungaree
Who that moment came along,
Knew and righted what was wrong.

Tragedy Of World Today

By PAUL GALLICO

VIENNA, July 30.—Just because I have been spending four days in this fascinating and beleaguered city does not mean that you are about to be hit over the head with something entitled, "With Type-writer and Gallico Behind the Iron Curtain," or "Life Amongst the Tartar Hordes," but at least I am where there are real live Russians. I have seen them, with the naked eye, and even upon short acquaintance am able to report to you that the Russian is an appalling fellow.

For instance, five years after the war is over, in a busy and civilized city whose population could not muster enough firearms to organize a second class Schutzenfest, the Russki still clings to his Tommy gun. He stands guard at the doors of his hotels with it hanging on his back. He goes marching around the block in clusters lugging the old Thompson. He feels nude, insecure and unhappy without it.

True, our military police wear forty-fives, but this popper is a part of his soldier's dress, and the side-arm is particularly the weapon of the policeman. It is a far cry from the military Roscoe to the sub-machine gun. I am sure the Russian sleeps with his.

Great Tragedy Of World Today
The great tragedy of the world today, the Russians, yours and mine, is the terrible insecurity of these Slavic people. For as long as anybody else has a gun he will never know a moment's peace or rest. And as long as there are such things as liberty, cleanliness, education, culture, regard for human life, tenderness and the love of art and beauty extant in other people in other parts of the world, he can never be really comfortable.

Here is a barbaric, savage and completely uncivilized people brought into contact with cultures and civilizations more than 2000 years old and it has given him the daddy of all inferiority feelings. The average Russian soldier who represents the majority of the population of Russia does not know how to come into a room, or what to do when he gets there, how to behave among people, how to eat at a table, how to keep himself and his quarters clean, how to live in the modern world.

It is for this reason that he feels he must eventually destroy this city, and Paris, London, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, and will do so as quickly as he can unless you and I take measures to prevent him forcibly. For not until those centers are in rubble and their inhabitants wiped out or in chains will the Russian be able to breathe freely and feel himself, psychologically secure. For then, since there will be no others, the standards of Moscow, Leningrad Omsk and Toms will prevail and Ivan will be "correct."

You may think this a pretty silly idea to go to war for, but you wouldn't if you were here where you could get close enough to the Russian soldier to hear him, smell him and "feel" what he is about. He would be utterly pathetic in the presence of civilized people if this were not so fearfully fraught with menace for us. For as long as we are as we are, the Russ cannot be secure at ease, or quite happy.

What Reds Really Wanted
I have often thought during the time the Reds were threatening to loose a half million kids to take West Berlin that what they really wanted was for us to machine gun a couple of thousand of them so that we could share the guilt of the existence of the average Russian politicians or military man. To a nation which has starved millions of peasants to death and executed countless thousands of innocent victims, a country which takes every human life into account and safeguards justice and human rights can be nothing but a constant reproach. The Russians could co-exist with us much more readily if we would just start clubbing, torturing, hanging, shooting, slaughtering, maiming; in short if politically and militarily we acted a little more like them.

In Vienna it all comes to a head, so to speak, and it must nearly kill the Russ with guilt, chagrin and the vivid sense of his own nastiness and failing as a human being.

For Vienna, as you know, is partitioned into four sectors, and the three that belong, technically, to the French, British and Americans, are light hearted, gay, sprightly and normal in every respect. The one devoted to the Russ is mean, grim, gloomy and forbidding and quaking with suppressed terror.

Here behind the walls of the long, gray buildings he has taken over as prisons and inquisition chambers, he works his nightly horrors upon the human body and spirit, destroying the minds and bodies of unfortunate men and women. And then the next day, in bright sunlight he must meet the Americans, British and French, yes, and the Viennese too, and look them in the eye. He cannot last very long at this. He must set out very soon to do away with us so that he need no longer be so ashamed. Don't say I didn't warn you.

Looking At Life

By ERIC BRANDERS

Well, tomorrow morning we are off on our vacation trip.

First we are driving up to Lake George where we will visit some friends.

Then, through the Adirondacks past Lake Placid, Tupper Lake and Saranac Lake to the Thousand Islands.

Next over to Canada, along the St. Lawrence river, back to the United States and on home through Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts.

I have made no reservations. I haven't the slightest idea how long we are going to stay wherever we happen to land for the night.

We'll just go gypsying without any particular plan or schedule.

We'll stay where we like, as long as we like it—and as long as the money holds out.

Unfortunately it's going to rain cats and dogs tomorrow. I know it because I just had my car washed.

If ever New York City needs rain, all they have to do is to hire me rather than that high-priced crew of scientists.

I'll just have my car washed and, bingo, within 24 hours there will be enough rain to fill all of New York's reservoirs.

At the moment our house is in a turmoil.

My wife is doing the packing, while I am writing this column and answering her questions at the same time.

"What shoes are you going to take along? Are you going to take a topcoat or a raincoat?" "How many suitcases are you going to take?" "Have you enough copy paper and envelopes, with you?" "How about stamps?" That's enough. Any husband knows these questions and a hundred more that wives ask before a trip.

The laundry hasn't come back yet, and I am short of pajamas. The dry cleaner has lost the very slacks that I wanted to wear while driving.

We ordered a picnic set with thermos bottles and things from a New York department store. They promised delivery faithfully for a week ago. It hasn't arrived and the package can't be located.

On my desk lies a slip made out by my wife. I counted exactly 22 chores I am supposed to do before we leave.

I have done four of them so far.

We have a lovely garden. A brook runs right through our property. The roses, the rhododendrons and a hundred other varieties of flowers are in bloom.

Our place is cool, our beds are comfortable, my wife's cooking is yum-yum.

We are going to leave all that to sleep in strange beds, get bitten by mosquitos and gnats, eat a lot of nasty food, drive a thousand miles or more and spend enough money to repaint the house.

We will come home saying what fools we have been.

Will we do it again next year? Of course we will.

How 219 U.S. Infantrymen Were Rescued

By FRANK CONNIFF
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN KOREA, July 30.—(Saturday)—(INS)—GI talent for "liberating" technical gadgets plus an imaginative application of American know-how was credited today with effecting the rescue of 219 infantrymen cut off three days behind enemy lines after the fall of Yong-dong.

An appeal for help was tapped out on a radio scrounged from a knocked out tank and was picked up on another radio similarly requisitioned.

The appeal quickly brought food and medicine. Directions were relayed via a Piper Cub plane on how the stranded troops could march 30 miles around hostile lines back to safety of American positions.

The radioed SOS became possible only when C. Wyatt Grimmer of Landsville, W. Va., cleverly devised a way to give the scrounged radio needed juice. He ripped from his helmet a piece of wire used to bind camouflage and improved an antenna by fastening the wire on a bayonet and stabbing it into a tree.

Back behind the Yank lines Pfc. Herbert Lubelsky of (Troy avenue) Brooklyn, N. Y., happened to be fiddling around with a radio he had "liberated" from a destroyed tank.

A faint signal snapped Lubelsky to attention. Within an hour the Piper Cub plane, piloted by Lieut. William Maddox, was hovering over the spot described on Grimmer's radio appeal for food, medicine and maps were dropped to the men.

State Industries Hit New Postwar High During June

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 29.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's industrial activity hit a post war high during June but a new peak is expected. Business Survey Bureau at Pennsylvania State College reported today.

Living costs gained up to three per cent in the April-May period and added another two per cent during June, the bureau added.

Another increase is anticipated for July with marked price jumps indicated for meats, eggs, coffee and bread.

The survey is based on coal production, employment and industrial power sales. The 1935-39 period is used to fix a base of 100.

During June, the index was 94 points above the 1935-39 level, the bureau reported. It represented a 15 per cent increase over June, 1949.

Surpass Records

"Industrial power sales, bank deposits, and new car and truck sales during June surpassed the all-time records for any one month and new June peaks were reported in steel production," the bureau reported.

"Anthracite production was better than that of a year ago as was bituminous coal, crude petroleum, factory employment, parolls, and employees hours."

"The building industry, in line with the national construction boom, showed exceptional strength with building operations up 57 per cent from a year ago," the bureau said.

"In spite of the high level of business prosperity and industrial activity in the state during June, factory employment and employee hours were the lowest for the month, except for 1949, since 1940."

"Employment was down 22 per cent from the war peak, indicating a considerable volume of surplus labor exists in case of war expansion by industry," according to the bureau.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Live Ammunition To Be Used For Troop Training

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—The army revised its troop training program today and ordered "realistic combat exercises" to train men under light gunfire.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, army chief of staff, said live ammunition will be used to train troops in military tactics at posts throughout the nation.

Clark said special emphasis will be given to methods of combatting "guerrilla and infiltration tactics." He said the new decision was made "in keeping with the urgency of the international situation."

An army statement said: "As a first step toward this goal of strengthening the mental, moral and physical fiber of the American soldier, realistic combat exercises involving use of live ammunition has been reestablished as part of the army's training program."

"Certain training restrictions imposed in peacetime have been removed. Firing courses designed to condition men psychologically for combat are now being used."

Safety officers will supervise the training and the army said the number of lives saved as a result of the training by far outweigh the hazard it added.

Experiment On New Steel-Making Way

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—Pittsburgh steelmakers are experimenting with a new type converter for making "side-blown Bessemer" or "turbo-hearth" steel which combines the best features of open hearth and Bessemer processes.

The Bessemer method of converting molten pig iron into steel by blowing air through it is the oldest commercial steelmaking process. It was the leading method of steel manufacture from 1870 until 1910, when the open hearth process forged into favor.

There were three main reasons why the open hearth process took first place in steelmaking:

1. Open hearth furnaces could produce quality steel in large tonnage at competitive costs.
2. Open hearth furnaces had a capacity for profitable use of iron and steel scrap.
3. Characteristics of Bessemer steel made it less suitable for certain uses.

But open hearth steel also possessed some advantages. For one, open hearth furnaces require fuel from an outside source where the Bessemer converter does not. The open hearth process also produces steel at a slower rate.

In the experiment to combine the best features of these two methods, Jones & Laughlin and Carnegie-Illinois steelmen came up with a converter that directs a stream of air across the surface of the molten pig iron rather than through it.

Initial tests show that the converter produces a metal closely approaching open hearth quality.

Two Men, 85 And 84, Seek Army Service

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—The White House Friday made public letters from two Philadelphians—an 85-year-old Armenian immigrant and an 84-year-old veteran of the Indian wars—appealing to President Truman to enlist them in the armed forces to fight against communism.

Though widely different in their origins and background, both men were equally ardent in their desire to get into action.

Samuel Barsuman, an Armenian who was born in Turkey, wrote a letter warmed with enthusiasm for the American way of life.

Samuel Deemer Gilpin, told of participating in Indian campaigns in 1885 and 1886 and a subsequent career as a lawyer in Florida.

(Barsuman lives at 1143 West Somerset street, Philadelphia, and Gilpin at 301 North 18th street in the same city.)

Barsuman's letter was written in Armenian-Turkish and was translated by a friend, who forwarded the original and the translation to the White House. The Armenian immigrant said:

"As long as I live I shall live for the honor of America. I too am ready to be a soldier with the brave young men of America who strive for the honor of America."

"My eyesight is good. My arms and legs are strong. My blood is clean. My internal organs are sound. My whole body is without fault. I am ready for a doctor's examination if desired."

Gilpin said "my object in writing you, Mr. Truman, is to achieve induction into the armed forces again."

He recalled that he first enlisted in the army at the age of 18.

Will Create New Police Force For Western Germany

FRANKFURT, July 29.—(INS)—Informed sources in Frankfurt said today that the Western Powers are believed to have given a green-light to the creation of a 10,000-man Federal Police Force for Western Germany.

The informants said the United States, Britain, and France have issued instructions to their representatives on the Allied High Commission to authorize the force.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer reportedly has asked for such a group. The police force will be equipped with automatic weapons but not tanks or artillery.

West Germany now has a 97,000-man Decentralized Police Force. Eastern Germany, under Soviet control, is believed to have over 150,000 men in their police force.

Business Index Soars To Record Level In Pittsburgh Last Week

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district soared to record levels last week.

Biggest gains were reported in freight shipments and in volume of trade, although industrial production was also up appreciably.

The business index of the University of Pittsburgh Bureau of Business Research jumped from 190.8 per cent of the 1935-39 average at mid-July to 203.6 last week.

British Plane Is Downed By Mistake

TOKYO, July 29.—(INS)—The Airforce reported today that American B-29s shot down a British plane Friday due to a mixup in identification.

The plane, a Seafire operating from a British carrier, was downed off the west coast of Korea. The pilot was rescued after landing in the sea.

The Navy said that as a result of the incident "improved identification procedures" are being adopted.

Pennsylvania R.R. To Acquire 5,000 New Freight Cars

CHICAGO, July 29.—(INS)—Walter S. Franklin, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, announced today that the carrier will acquire 5,000 new freight cars as soon as possible.

He said the new cars will cost approximately $27 million and deliveries are expected to begin next April.

The program, he explained, is in addition to the railroad's acquisition of 10,000 new freight cars under a rental plan at a cost of some $53 million. Deliveries of new cars under the rental plan will begin in October.

Including all the cars on order, Franklin said the Pennsylvania will have a total of 38,989 new and reconditioned freight cars on hand when the program is completed.

In addition to the purchase and rental of new cars, Franklin said the Pennsy is repairing and reconditioning some 17,000 cars at the rate of 3,000 a month.

Hunt Texas Plane And Five Passengers

BOSTON, July 29.—(INS)—An intensive air search was ordered today for some trace of a Texas plane and its five passengers which vanished on a trip from Teterboro, N. J., to Providence, R. I., last Sunday.

J. R. Harrington, owner of the Oklahoma Construction Co., his niece, Mrs. Anna Gill and the latter's two small children, and the pilot, J. F. Aldrich of Houston, Texas, have not been heard from since their two-engine craft left the New Jersey field. The plane bore the markings NC-80493.

The plane was enroute from Texas to Providence, Portland, Me., and Montreal, on a business trip. Harrington's firm is laying an oil pipe line from Portland to Houston.

LAZY COOKS

NEW YORK.—(INS)—The American Can company states that food can production has increased tenfold in the last 50 years, from about two billion to approximately 20 billion in 1949. Per capita use of food cans was 130 last year.

LARAMIE, Wyo.—(INS)—Dr. Lillian G. Porter, University of Wyoming psychology professor, says a college student's early relationship with his family is the most important factor influencing his personality. She studied 119 student autobiographies.

Australia Promises Strong Support To U.S. In Korea

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—The United States today had a promise of strong support from Australia in the battle against Communism in the Far East.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies declared in a nationwide radio address Friday night that Australian foreign policy is grounded on close collaboration with the U.S. and the British Commonwealth.

Menzies called President Truman's decision to send troops to Korea as "Among the very great events of modern history." He added:

"The United States has accepted a world leadership which aptly corresponds to her military power and to her moral and physical resources."

The prime minister arrived in Washington Thursday night for a week-long series of conferences on Australia's part in the Korean war, including the use of ground forces.

In his speech, he said that Communist propaganda picturing the U.S. as imperialistic "Has no effect upon the true Australian mind."

Today, Menzies will be guest of honor at a reception at the Australian embassy. On Monday and Tuesday, he will deliver two major addresses at the National Press Club and at joint meeting of Congress.

Virginia Senator Wants To Extend Invitation To Supreme Soviet
WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—Sen. Robertson (D) Va., thinks that members of the supreme Soviet of Russia should be invited to attend sessions of the U. S. Senate—or vice versa.

Robertson made the suggestion in a speech welcoming to the Senate six members of the Japanese diet.

The Senator said he thought every U. S. Senator would accept the Russian invitation if they were allowed to speak for at least five minutes.

Fear Killing May Be 26th Credited To 'Mad Butcher'

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—"The Mad Butcher of Kingsbury Run" reads like the title of a movie.

It is the name of a demented surgeon or a slaughterhouse worker or a religious fanatic. These are the conclusions of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio police who credit the unidentified killer with 25 murders.

Last week in Cleveland police found an unidentified, horribly slashed body, near Kingsbury Run, a small, sluggish body of water that flows through Cleveland's industrial district.

Condition of the body and site of the murder indicated the "mad butcher" may have destroyed his 26th victim.

The head and legs and arms had been severed from the torso with a surgeon's skill. The bloody remains were believed to be those of a hobo, who prototype had been the mad killer's chief victims in the thirties.

During his bloody career, which apparently had ended in May 1940, "the mad butcher" had left his victims in the vicinity of a railroad track which extends from Cleveland through New Castle, Pa., to Pittsburgh.

He had worked with amazingly brutal skill. Thirteen mutilated torsos has been found in Cleveland, nine in a New Castle swamp and three near Pittsburgh. Each of the 25, seven of whom were women, had been beheaded. Only three of the heads were found, which facilitated identification.

Police, who questioned more than three thousand persons in an attempt to solve the murders, are not sure that the latest victim can be credited to "the mad butcher". They hope he either is dead or a patient in a mental institution.

Farm Hazards Blamed On Modern Equipment
HARRISBURG, July 29.—(INS)—Hazards on farms were blamed today on mechanization and modern conveniences that were not prevalent a generation ago.

Samuel L. Horst, farm and home safety education director of the State Department of Public Instruction, said farm safety week which ends today should remind rural residents to take preventive steps against accidents throughout the year.

"Machines and conveniences are not the direct cause of accidents," he explained. "It is the misuse of these appliances that causes accidents."

The last bare-knuckle boxing match was in 1889, when John L. Sullivan beat Jake Kilrain in Richmond, Miss.

An average of 500,000 tourists visit the Roosevelt manor at Hyde Park, N. Y., every year.

MR. AND MRS. HOME BUILDER THE FACTS ON TRUE COMFORT OF MODERN HEATING
TOLD IN PART BY THE FOLLOWING REPRINT FROM THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH OF JULY 26. (Copied by permission of Sun-Tele.)

★ COLDS MAY BE CAUSED BY FAULTY HEATING ★

If the children in your family seem unusually susceptible to colds, check your heating system. Often colds are caused by the drafts created by faulty heating. Many times the registers in hot air systems blow first with a cold draft, then with a very hot blast of air, hardly conducive to good health. Even temperatures without sudden, sharp variations between extremes of hot and cold are the best guarantee against colds caused by faulty heating.

In today's modern homes, temperature extremes are avoided through use of greatly improved room heating units which provide a steady flow of heat and are quickly responsive to the automatic controls of the central system. The new convector-radiators for use with steam or hot water systems are an example. These economical, practical units draw in cool floorline air, warm it and send it outward through the upper grille. Naturally the lighter, warmer air rises and the cool air at the floorline is again drawn into the convector, repeating the cycle. The air motion is gentle, avoiding drafts and minimizing the chances of your family catching cold.

And if one member of the family does have a cold, germs are not circulated throughout the entire house as is frequently the case in hot air systems.

Police Officer Makes Arrest After Chase In Burglary Case

Alertness on the part of Police Officer Victor Cubellis, plus a pair of fast legs, resulted in the arrest at 3:05 a.m. today of LeRoy Brooks, and according to police, he will be charged with burglary.

Owing to a story told by Brooks, Lieutenant Rigby and Cruiser Operator Reese, a youth was later arrested, Brooks having claimed the youth was with him when he entered the Hospital Confectionery shop, at South Mill and Lutton streets.

Cubellis had noticed the lights on in the shop when he patrolled the section, then found the door of a beer distributing agency open. He reported the latter to headquarters, and the wife of the owner, came and locked it.

During another patrol in the section, Cubellis noticed the lights were out in the Hospital shop. He figured something was wrong and investigated. He heard someone jump from a window, and he noticed a form fleeing. Giving chase, Cubellis caught the man, who proved to be Brooks, in a Lutton St. yard. He sent the prisoner to jail in a cruiser car.

Quizzing by headquarters attaches, Brooks reportedly told them a young boy had been with him, and Rigby and Reese took the boy into custody.

Brooks had several packages of cigarettes on his person, police report.

Business at the New Castle Credit Bureau during the past six months has risen 53 percent over the same period last year, it was reported by Carl E. Paisley, manager of the bureau, at a meeting of the directors at The Castleton hotel Thursday.

Mr. Paisley announced this as part of a six months report to the directors.

Education Law Upheld By Lancaster Court

LANCASTER, Pa., July 29.—(INS)—The Commonwealth's compulsory education law was upheld today by the Lancaster county court in a case involving the 14-year-old children of two Amish farmers.

Counsel for the appellants said the ruling will be tested in the State Superior Court.

The Commonwealth's school code fixes 16 as the minimum age for quitting school.

Levi Beiler and his brother, Samuel, both of Gap, R.D., were ordered by Judge O. S. Schaeffer to pay $2 fines and costs imposed on each by a justice of the peace for not sending their two children to school after reaching the age of 14.

"Book learning is not good for children over 14," the Beilers told the court.

Judge Schaeffer, taking into consideration the strict religious tenets of the Amish who abound in Lancaster county, told the Beilers:

"The court is of the opinion that these religious convictions do not provide immunity from the law and, if allowed, could upset the entire machinery of the law."

Striking Workers Riot In Brussels

BRUSSELS, July 29.—(INS)—Stones and smoke bombs were hurled into Brussels street cars Friday by workers striking in protest against the return to the throne of Leopold III.

Gendarmes were aboard the cars to help keep them running.

In southern Belgium, industry and public utilities were paralyzed by strikes. Only hospitals received emergency supplies.

In a continuance of bombings, one explosive was set off at a bridge in Mons, cutting the Brussels to Paris railroad.

Pvt. John Freeman Completes Furlough

Pvt. John Freeman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Freeman, 119 North Mill street, New Castle, has completed his furlough at home and has departed for the west coast.

Pvt. Freeman, Jr., enlisted at the New Castle Recruiting Station April 22, 1949, and served with the 7th Regt., 3rd Div., at Fort Devens, Mass. He will be assigned to the 2nd Division, currently on the west coast.

During 1948, 29 commemorative stamps were issued in the United States.

Louis Planning Return To Ring; Will Battle 'Ez' Charles For Title

NEW YORK, July 29.—(INS)—Joe Louis' return to the ring promised today to bring some sort of order to the chaotic heavyweight division, which hasn't had a clear-cut champion since Louis retired 17 months ago.

Ezzard Charles, recognized as champion by the National Boxing Association and designated as Louis' opponent in the Brown Bomber's September comeback attempt, hailed Joe's announcement as "mighty good news to me."

Charles, training for an August 15 bout with Freddie Besore, said he welcomed the attempt to prove to boxing fans that he is champion. He stated:

"I just don't know if I can beat him or not, but I'm sure glad for the chance to try."

Wants Another Chance

Another bid for a fight with Louis was voiced by Jersey Joe Walcott, who fought the former champion twice and nearly outpointed him the first time. Walcott, currently in Frankfurt, Germany, said:

"While Louis has been in retirement I have been boxing actively and I've earned another shot at the title."

Louis' comeback plans were motivated by a large 1946-47 income tax bill he still owes the federal government. He will be the sixth former heavyweight champion to attempt to regain his crown, although he is the first to do so after retiring unbeaten.

Steelers Head For Camp Today

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Steelers Football Team leaves tomorrow for training camp at Cambridge Springs, Pa.

The squad will return to Pittsburgh in three weeks to meet the Detroit Lions at Forbes field on Aug. 19 in a charity game.

They will play another game earlier for exhibition purposes against the Baltimore Colts in Baltimore on Sunday, Aug. 13.

There will be 23 veterans among the 55 players reporting for drills.

Kiner Must Rest Three More Days

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—Outfielder Ralph Kiner will rest his aching back for three more days, which could mean any chance he had to break Babe Ruth's home run record.

Kiner, who injured a back muscle when he ran into the left field barrier at Forbes Field last Monday, did not play in the game which Pittsburgh lost in Philadelphia last night. "It was the first game he had missed this season."

After an examination by a physician in New York, the Erie slugger was told his injury was not serious and merely required rest. Kiner had been blasting the ball better than any time during the season when he suffered the injury. He now has 28 home runs in 89 games.

ARRESTED AFTER ACCIDENT

City Cruiser Policemen Kovach and Birt at 1-20 a. m. today arrested Joe Wirtz, of R. D. 2, on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Police Captain W. G. McMullen made the charge before Alderman J. C. Kennedy.

It was alleged Wirtz' truck was driven from Grant, into Sampson street, and struck a car operated by Deloris R. Broschart, Boston avenue, R. D. 2, which was in Sampson street, but which was stopped for a green light into Grant street.

Bible Band of the Mahoning Avenue Mission will meet in the mission, Monday evening, July 30, at 7:30, with Mrs. Edie Blackwell in charge. Theme for discussion will be, "Repentance and Faith."

Australian Prime Minister Confers With President

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(INS)—President Truman and Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies held a luncheon conference Friday on the Korean war and plans for close collaboration in efforts of democratic governments to halt Communist aggression.

Secretary of State Acheson also was a guest at the luncheon, which followed a 40-minute talk between Acheson, Menzies, Australian Ambassador Makin, and Assistant Secretary of State Perkins.

The prime minister, who arrived in Washington Thursday night en route home from consultations in London, is to continue his discussions with U. S. officials for several days.

The major topic of his talks is Australia's offer to supply ground troops for the United Nations' defense of South Korea. Details as to the number, type, and maintenance of the Aussie forces are being worked out.

Still Blast At New Bridge Site

Some additional blasting was done at the site of the new bridge over the Neshannock Creek, from Grove street to South Jefferson street, late Friday afternoon.

Because of atmospheric conditions, the blast was noticed more distinctly than some of the previous ones, and many folks were concerned about the location of the explosion.

Oriole Bus Company Offers New Hope In Pittsburgh Strike

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—(INS)—The union and management of the Oriole Motor Coach Company, one of six struck Pittsburgh district bus firms, today agreed to submit their wage dispute to arbitration if a third arbiter could be agreed on.

The move gave rise to hope that the other five strikebound companies might do likewise.

Of the six lines, harmony was struck May 2, and Oriole, Brentwood, Debolt, West Side and Penn Transit was struck May 18.

The Public Utility Commission last Wednesday gave all six companies 15 days to show cause why their operating permits should not be revoked because of failure to provide service.

Second Missile Launched Over Atlantic Today

COCOA, Fla., July 29.—(INS)—The second giant guided missile of the week shot horizontally over the Atlantic ocean today after a thunderous launching from the joint long-range proving grounds near Cocoa, Fla.

The 15-ton, 56-foot-long rocket was a companion to the one that whizzed off from sandy Cape Canaveral Monday morning at supersonic speed.

Both missiles were capable of carrying any type of destructive agent—including an atomic war head.

Today's "Bomber" rocket left the launching pad along the Banana river at 6:44 a.m.

Long Hospital Plane Flight With Wounded

HONOLULU, July 29.—(INS)—Sixty-three wounded and ailing Americans, including 37 who received wounds in the Korean fighting, arrived in Honolulu last night after a record-breaking 6,000 mile non-stop hospital plane flight from Tokyo.

The arrival of the patients, 42 of whom were on litters and the other 21 ambulatory, completed the first phase of a new military air transport service program to speed American wounded and sick from the far eastern war zone.

The flight was made in a giant C-97 strato-freighter that landed at the Honolulu airport.

The wounded and sick were brought from the airfield to Honolulu's Tripler hospital to rest while awaiting the plane's takeoff on the second leg of a flight to the Fairfield-Suisun Air Base in California.

Maj. Donald J. Ferguson, commander of a Hickam Field medical air evacuation squadron, had flown to Tokyo to bring the 63 patients back. He said this was the largest mass medical evacuation in the history of Pacific air operations.

Ferguson said strato-freighters had been used on regular hospital plane flights from Hawaii to the United States west coast, but this is the first C-97 medical flight from the Far East.

Henceforth, the major added, the strato-freighters will be used regularly to evacuate wounded and sick from Tokyo, augmenting the C-54 transports already in use for that purpose.

Comb Area Off Oshima Island For Missing Crew Of C-47 Plane

TOKYO, July 29.—(INS)—Air and sea searchers combed the area off Japan's Oshima island with warning hope today for 25 persons missing in the crash of a C-47 transport plane.

One passenger, a Neisei sergeant, was picked up not long after the plane went down Thursday morning. Japanese fishermen found the craft's wreckage Friday but no trace of the other 25 aboard.

The air force announced that personal effects found in the wreckage will help identify those aboard the headquarters courier plane flying from Tokyo to Kyushu, Japanese island nearest Korea.

News correspondents listed unofficially as aboard were Albert Hinton of the Norfolk, Va., Journal and Guide; James Supple of the Chicago Sun-Times; Maximilian Philonenko, Agence France Presse, and Stephen Simmons of the Hilton Press and London Picture Post.

The newsmen all recently arrived in Japan and were on their way to cover the Korean war. Cause of the crash was not determined.

WILL LOTS

LONDON.—(INS)—Tom Charles Barrow was determined there would be no squabbling over his estate after he died. When his will was opened it showed Charles had left six houses to his six children. They drew lots to see which heir would get which house.

New Raids On Mexican Border Finally Crack Large Smuggling Ring

EL PASO, Tex., July 29.—(INS)—American immigration authorities today announced they have cracked in international smuggling ring that brought at least 20 women from Guatemala into the United States.

Officials said the women paid large sums of money to smugglers who took them from Central America through Mexico into Texas, where they found jobs as housemaids and hotel chambermaids.

The ring was broken in sweeping raids on the Texas-Mexico border. Authorities said most of the women are now held in a government detention home in El Paso awaiting deportation.

Doughboy Tells Of Korean Tactics

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN KOREA, July 29.—(INS)—An unidentified wounded American soldier told how the Communists are using refugee swarms to aid their advance.

He declared men of his unit found the Reds send refugees toward the American lines in three separate waves.

The doughboy related: "The first wave consists mostly of women, kids and old men they know we won't shoot. They send them through until they think we've let our guard down."

"Then they send the second wave, which includes men with knives. Long after that they begin slipping through men with pistols and other firearms."

"All the time, of course, they have women, kids and old men moving to cover their infiltrators."

State Doctors Make Plans To Speed Flow Of Men Into Services

HARRISBURG, July 29.—(INS)—A four-member committee of physicians was appointed today by the Pennsylvania Medical Society to speed the flow of doctors into the armed forces if a call should be made.

The committee will include Doctors E. Roger Samuel, of Mt. Carmel; Harold B. Gardner, of Pittsburgh; James A. Appel, of Lancaster; and James L. Whitehill, of Rochester.

"Doctors for military service are not included in the civilian draft but will be obtained through the office of procurement and assignment under the Secretary of Defense," Whitehill explained.

"Realizing the seriousness of the situation, the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania is acting promptly to have its men ready when needed," he said.

"State-wide plans for supplying doctors from Pennsylvania for military service are in motion and when the call comes we hope to be ready," he added.

WEMBLEY.—(INS)—The name of twelve-year-old Marie Lester has been inscribed in bold letters on the rolls at the headquarters of the Royal Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Marie was walking home when she saw two fifteen-year-old boys cut off the tail of a grass-snake and then attempt to throw the snake into a stream. Pushing the boys to one side, Marie seized the snake, ran home with it, bandaged the amputated snake—and added it to her collection of kittens, dogs, injured mice, and snails with cracked shells.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By FR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Infant Athletes
It is just as important for babies to have exercise as it is for children or adults, provided, of course, that they are not suffering from any illness or physical disability. First of all clothing should be simple and not restricting. Beds, cots or cribs should provide ample room for the young master or mistress to move around without immediately bumping into the sides or the ends. Each member of the family can take part in the "athletic activities" of the young baby. After the first two or three months simple gymnastics are in order: Letting the baby push his legs against your hands; gently pushing their arms and legs back and forth are ways in which the smallest member of any family begins to enjoy physical activity. Towards the end of their first year, gradually, they may be introduced to more complicated gymnastics: Gentle swinging by arms or legs, carefully tossing them up and catching them are two tricks that most youngsters enjoy. No Junior need wait until his tenth or twelfth birthday before he begins his athletic career. (Copyright, 1950, by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

FRUIT BLOOM AIDED BROOD REARING BEES
Brood-rearing bees in orchards for pollination came out in good condition as a result of a few good days during the fruit bloom. Swarming has been reported as excessive, and queen failure unusually heavy. Dandelion and black locust produced a fair honey crop, but clover was in only fair condition in many fields for honey making. Supers are needed whether comb honey or extracted honey is being produced. Bees work in two or even three supers, during a honey flow as easily as one, since they must have room to ripen honey. Bees should be more crowded for good, full sections in comb honey production. There is less danger of over-supering, if extract honey is produced. The tops of sections should be appointed with paraffin to make it easier to scrape the sections. Be slow to add comb honey supers near the end of the honey flow to prevent too many unfilled sections.

Israel Draftees Lead Dual Lives

TEL AVIV, (INS)—The first batch of 18-year-old conscripts to Israel's army are to be called up shortly for a military training program which is probably unique in the world. Not only are all 18-year-olds called up, regardless of sex. They also are called upon to serve part of their two-year term as farm workers in settlements strung along Israel's borders. The 1932 class is now to be called to basic training depots for military training identical with that given regular army recruits. This will be supplemented by lectures on general topics and camp-fire talks, so that the "Nahal" will serve as a sort of university for youngsters of varied backgrounds. After their initial training the boys and girls will be divided into groups of 50 to 60 (two-thirds of each group will be boys) and sent to special camps near villages where their agricultural training will be carried out. Still Under Discipline They will still be under military discipline, and will need leave or furlough passes to go into town, just as though they were still in an army camp. Each month, all "Nahal" agriculture trainees will be recalled to military depots for five days army training.

Filipino Veterans Seek GI Benefits

MANILA—(INS)—Exhibition of a top flight Hollywood war movie has climaxed Filipino pressure for passage of U. S. legislation that will give educational aid and burial benefits to Filipino veterans. The film "Sands of Iwo Jima" was elaborately premiered at Manila's downtown Avenue theater following a Philippine armed forces exhibition of U. S. army light artillery and heavy tanks. Four helicopters dropped 200,000 leaflets promoting the show. But the real significance behind the ceremony was the collection of $2,500 to help finance the representatives of veterans aid movement in Washington. The whole campaign is headed by Colonel Terry Adevo, chief of the Philippine customs patrol, whose efforts have led to the collection of nearly $50,000 to finance what he terms "the Kearney bill mission". Under the Kearney bill, if it becomes law, Filipino war veterans will be eligible for $50 burial expenses from the United States Treasury. In addition, the bill would provide a monthly sum of $32.50 for a total of 50,000 veterans who need subsistence while attending school. Subsidence funds would continue for three school years while college students would have their tuition fees paid for three years by the United States government. Passion plays are presented at Oberammergau, Germany; Tegeler, Holland; Spearfish, So. Dak., and Lawton, Okla., among other places. Cottage cheese makes a delicious filling for nut bread. Mix the cheese with finely cut dried apricots or prunes.
